Plaster of Paris as a Fertilizer.

If one must use some commercial manure, he will do well to make a trial of Plaster of Paris, which he should live where he cannot obtain it without great expense.

That it generally produces favorable results wherever used, is a well established fact; but the process by which those results are gained does not appear. Some observers think that the plaster retains the fertilizing gas that arises from decaying vegetable matter, and gives it off at the proper time for the use of the growing plant. Others think that the effect is due to the lime and sulphur of which plaster is composed—it is sulphate of lime.

Plut, in his book on Grasses, says: "The infectious odor which rises from decaying vegetable matter from the stable, from the manure heap, and imperceptibly from the whole surface of the earth, is one of the most important elements for the growth of the plant. Plaster fixes this, and the first shower washes it into the earth to feed the roots of plants."

The relative value of manure depends, in a measure, according to the generally received opinion on this subject, upon the amount of this infectious odor, or the ammonia, which it contains. Ammonia, commonly known as hartshorn, is an exceedingly powerful stimulant. Nor will it appear unimportant when we bear in mind that two and one-quarter pounds of this ammonia, lost by fermentation, is equal according to some, to the loss of one hundred and fifty pounds of grass or grain."

One fact seems to favor this view of the case, and that is, that plaster, when plowed under produces no perceptible effect on the crop; but when sown upon the surface proves a powerful stimulant to the growing plant.

Sir Humphry Davy found, by experiment, that the ashes of an acre of red clover contain no less than three bushels of plaster of Paris. This fact would seem to prove that the substance of the plaster is absorbed by the plant, for there is no plant that shows the effect of plaster more readily than clover. In many instances, it is believed that from one to two bushels of plaster sown on an acre of clover has nearly doubled the crop.

On a light or sandy soil plaster is of very little value, but on the surface of damp and compact soils it may be used to great advantage. It is useful on pastures as well as on meadows; and when mixed about half and half with wood ashes, and dropped on corn or potatoes soon after they come up, about a heaping spoonful to the hill, the result will be very manifest.

It was common for farmers in New England, forty years ago, to haul plaster in the rock a hundred and twenty miles, break it into pieces about the size of hickory nuts, and take it to the mill, where it was ground for use on their farms. The prime cost of the article was trifling, but the labor bestowed upon it brought it up to a high price; but as they persevered in the practice year after year we conclude that they believed it to be a paying operation.—St. Louis Jour. Ag.

THE INDIAN WAR ENDED.—The Indian war has ended. General Sheridan and staff arrived at Fort Hays, Kansas, March 6, from Medicine Bluff Creek February 24. General Custer, with the Seventh cavalry and Nineteenth Kansas volunteers, remained behind with orders to move along the south side of Wichita Mountains to the head waters of the Red river, thence north to Wichita, thence to Camp Supply, at the junction of the Beaver and Wolf rivers. Affairs at Medicine Bluff creek are in a highly satisfactory condition. The Indians are convinced that they can find protection at no season of the year, and the campaign has already proved a salutary lesson. There is not a hostile Indian within the limits of the Mission department. The refractory tribes have been entirely subdued. The few that have not yet come in but have made promises, have been driven out of the department. The troops are in fine health. Weather cold. Camp Supply, at the forks of the North Canadian, will be kept up for the present. My mail dispatches will give the details of this brilliant Indian campaign. Before reaching this point the General met the courier sent with the telegraphic announcement of his promotion to the Lieutenant Generalcy. The General's arrival was entirely a surprise. He leaves by special train to-morrow for Fort Leavenworth, thence immediately to Washington, whither he has been summoned by telegraphic despatch.

ATROCIOUS MURDER.—The Montgomery (Ala.) Sentinel says: Yesterday evening, as the alarm of fire was given, a most atrocious act was committed in our city. It seems that a man named John Chase, who is well known in the city as a man of bad character, and frequently appearing in the Mayor's court, was on what is usually known as a "spree." In company with a young man of this city, he was going down McDonough street, as they crossed the street he heard a negro, who was at the time driving a wagon loaded with wood, cry "fire." Chase said to him, "You may fire—I'll do it!" and pulling out a pistol, he fired, the ball taking effect below his left shoulder blade and entering his heart, killing him instantly.

Chase is described as a man about six feet high, well built, of rather fair complexion, black curly hair, black moustache and dark eyes. He has worked for some time on the railroad, and he believes, professes to be an engineer. He may, however, attempt to earn a living wherever he goes as a steam boiler tender.

A Fair Dentist.

Yesterday, in Philadelphia, a woman graduated in dental surgery, and received her diploma. She is a widow now, but we predict that she will not remain in that unsatisfactory state but a very short time.

The advent of this female dentist into the profession, will create a sensation in Philadelphia. Her rooms will be crowded "from early morn to dewy eve." Every young fellow in the "City of Brotherly Love" will have the toothache, and we question if the widow can fill a tithe of the carious teeth that will be offered for her inspection. It is absolutely indispensable to a successful operation that the dentist's left arm encircle the neck of his patient; and Oh! how patient the young men and the widowers who patronize the fair dentist will be.

Of course, two-thirds of the gentlemen of dissipated mouths, will faint just as soon as the doctor exhibits her instruments; and it will never do to permit them to fall headlong to the floor; something must avert the catastrophe. But we don't pretend to say the widow would do it.

Now, who would not have the toothache (just the least bit in the world), if he could be operated on by a female dentist? Nice, isn't it? to enjoy the luxury of having your teeth filled (in imagination) by the hand of woman? Young man, picture to yourself a neat little sign hanging out on Market street, in Wilmington, containing the following:

"Miss Anesthetic Amalgam, D. D. S."

Wouldn't that be glorious?—Wilmington Star.

A SAD CASE.—This afternoon will be buried the last member of what a few years since was one of the happiest families in town. Blessed with plenty of this world's goods, nothing seemed to trouble them, and everything went on smoothly. But the man went into speculations, and little by little the money was lost until he was considerably reduced and forced to go to work for a living. With what remained of their fortune, the wife furnished a house and keeping a number of boarders. But nothing seemed to prosper. The boarders left, leaving unpaid bills, and one of them at last seduced a daughter of the landlady, and when her shame became known the guilty man was found to be a clerk in a Main street store. He was forced to marry her, but immediately after left for parts unknown, and has not been heard of since. The girl gave birth to a daughter which lived a few weeks and then died. Last fall the father of the family died very suddenly at 5 o'clock in the morning and was buried at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Last week the mother was taken sick with diphtheria and died in a few hours. Her remains were conveyed by the midnight train to a neighboring city and buried the next morning. The daughter took the disease of the mother, and after a few days of intense suffering she too was released by death, and so the last member of the family is gone. A sad story.—Hartford Times, 4th inst.

A Great and Good Medicine.

HEINTISH'S QUEEN'S DELIGHT, THE NEW THEORY OF HEALTH.

The Life of all Flesh is Blood—The Health of all the Activity of Flesh—Without Purification of Blood no Flesh can be free from Disease.

HEINTISH'S QUEEN'S DELIGHT, An Antidote to Disease.

The Great American Alternative and Blood Purifier.

It is the most perfect Vegetable Compound of Alteratives and Tonics, making it the most effective, invigorating, rejuvenating and blood-cleansing Cordial known to the world.

For the Cure of all those Diseases which may be traced to a vitiated condition of the Blood.

The Theory is that Blood is the Life of all Flesh, and if impure, the Life of all Diseases. Life and Health is only to be maintained by the circulation of pure arterial blood.

It is to be observed, however, to every reflecting mind, that unless the blood is pure, in supplying the various tissues with material, it must be the cause of the numerous ills and constitutional disorders, such as Scrofula, Rheumatism, Hepatic Disorders, Inflammations, Fevers, Liver Complaint, Consumption, King's Evil, Carbuncles, Boils, Itching Humors of the Skin, Eruptions of the Face, Itching Roughness of the Throat, Syphilis, Pain in the Bones, old Sores, Syphilis and Syphilitic Sores, Indigestion, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Pains in the Back, General Debility, and for all complaints arising from debility and poverty of blood.

HEINTISH'S QUEEN'S DELIGHT is the wonder of Modern Science. No medicine has attained such a world-wide reputation as this justly celebrated Compound. Its extraordinary virtues are attested to by thousands, and every mail is freighted with letters bearing testimony to its excellent character and worth as a medicine. Orders are coming in from all quarters, and all bear unimpeachable evidence of its great popularity.

READ THE TESTIMONIALS.

"Mr. E. H. HEINTISH:—DEAR SIR: I have been afflicted for many years with an eruption of the skin, of the nature of Erysipelas, and have tried a number of preparations without relief. My health much impaired in consequence of this disease, and having heard so much about the virtues of your preparation of 'Queen's Delight,' I was induced to try it. My expectations are more than realized; I find it a complete success. I give this testimony freely, that others may be benefited."

"Yours respectfully, Mrs. H. F."

Read this remarkable case of Liver Complaint, cured by one bottle of "Queen's Delight."

"Mr. E. H. HEINTISH:—DEAR SIR: Mrs. Rials was suffering from Liver Complaint and pains in the side and head, nervousness, could not sleep, bad appetite and general bad health. I procured one bottle of your 'Queen's Delight.' I regard her case as cured. She is looking as well as she ever did. Your 'Queen's Delight' is a blessing to the afflicted. I give this certificate cheerfully."

"Yours respectfully, J. D. RIALS."

General prostration cured by the "Queen's Delight."

"Messrs. Fisher & Heintish:—GENTS: I have no hesitation in saying that I regard 'Heintish's Queen's Delight' a great medicine. I have been suffering with Weakness, Languor, Want of Activity, Fatigue of Limbs, Drowsiness, Sleeplessness, Nervousness and General Prostration. I have taken one bottle of the 'Queen's Delight' and I am rejoiced to say that I am a new man and am about my business as well as ever. Yours truly, H. I. FAUNER."

"Dr. E. H. HEINTISH: I take great pleasure in testifying to the remarkable medicinal powers of your valuable medicine, the 'Queen's Delight.' I have used three bottles in my family, and I owe the restoration of my wife's health entirely to its use. I am now trying it for Asthma, on my daughter, a child six years of age; will report the result. Your medicine is worth a place in every household."

"Yours, &c. Rev. A. K. DURHAM."

Be sure and ask for "HEINTISH'S QUEEN'S DELIGHT," and see that his name is on it. Look out and avoid base imitations. Prepared only by E. H. HEINTISH, Pharmacist, and for sale everywhere.
